

Rob Frieden

Rob Frieden holds the Pioneers Chair and serves as Professor of Telecommunications and Law at Penn State University. Professor Frieden has written several books, most recently Winning the Silicon Sweepstakes: Can the United States Compete in Global Telecommunications, published by Yale University Press. Professor Frieden also has written over sixty articles in academic journals and provides commentary in various periodicals and a personal blog. He wrote several chapters in a communications treatise, Modern Communications Law (West Publishing) and provides biannual updates for All About Cable and Broadband (Law Journal Press).

Before accepting an academic appointment, Professor Frieden served as Deputy Director International Relations for Motorola Satellite Communications, Inc. In this capacity, he provided a broad range of business development, strategic planning, policy analysis and regulatory functions for the IRIDIUM mobile satellite venture.

Professor Frieden has held senior policy making positions in international telecommunications at the Federal Communications Commission and the National Telecommunications and Information Administration. In the private sector, he practiced law in Washington, D.C., and served as Assistant General Counsel at PTAT System, Inc. where he handled corporate, transactional and regulatory issues for the nation's first private undersea fiber optic cable company.

Professor Frieden holds a B.A., with distinction, from the University of Pennsylvania (1977) and a J.D. from the University of Virginia (1980).
