

Richard Li-dar Wang

Richard Li-dar Wang is now Assistant Professor of Law, National Chiao Tung University (Hsinchu, Taiwan), teaching patent law and antitrust. He was awarded S.J.D. degree from Indiana University-Bloomington in 2007, and LL.M. degree from Georgetown in 2004. Important English publications include:

- Biomechanical Upstream Patenting and Scientific Research: A Case for Compulsory Licensing Bearing Reach-Through Royalties, 10 YALE JOURNAL OF LAW AND TECHNOLOGY 251 (2008).
- DMCA Anticircumvention Provisions in a Different Light: Perspectives from Transnational Observation of Five Jurisdictions, 34 AMERICAN IP LAW ASS'N QUARTERLY JOURNAL (AIPLA Q.J.) 217 (2006).